BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES

Friendship—traditionally manifest in our every relationship

the treasure we glean from and give to Bucknell

IN APPRECIATION OF
DR. WILLIAM G. OWENS

To a great teacher — a man prolific in things of the mind and of the spirit, the embodiment of all the hopes and ideals we envision as Bucknell
—we dedicate this book.

One of the marvels of the universe is the creation of rare personalities like Dr. Owens. He gave himself away daily—through each semester of the many years, generously and abundantly, to the host of students he taught and served, to his brethren on the faculty, to Bucknell and to Lewisburg, to his church and country.

Perhaps no one man has given Bucknell to the outer world as has Dr. Owens. To the thousands of students he met on the campus he imparted the spirit of wisdom tempered with humanity, and they in turn have passed it on. He translated Bucknell into living.

This man of high thoughts and deep personal integrity, intense scholarship and simple faith, with his wisdom gathered through four-fifths of a century of vigorous living combined with perennial youth, gave—and gave himself away to all.

They have led us to the threshold of understanding . . . their efforts have cemented the ties of respect and good will.

Proficient

PRESIDENT HERBERT L. SPENCER

In these, the days of our years in

rich in experience, human in association, President Herbert L. Spencer and Dean of the College William H. Coleman combine rare personality and wisdom as profound as it is understanding. President Spencer's secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Frederick, and Dean Coleman's secretary, Miss Martha Henderson, have proven themselves invaluable as liaisons between these men and the students. The President and Dean have dedicated themselves in service to the school, they have been the compelling force behind all campus activity, and through them has been attained a true alliance of student body and administration. These qualities have enabled them to guide the University skillfully and with sensitivity—we turn to them with high esteem.

BUDGET COMMITTEE

Truly a representative group, Student-Faculty Congress serves as a governing body through which students and faculty work together. Its membership, represented by delegates from every interest group on campus, constitutes the voice of each of these. Through this organization, the policies and activities of our campus are designed. The problem solved, the working harmony that is maintained, exemplify the spirit of democracy and cooperation which is the basis of Bucknell government.

SENIOR CLASS

The last of Bucknell's "war orphans", the members of the class of 1949, entered their Alma Mater in November, 1945 and in March, 1946, when Bucknell was still under accelerated schedule. The November freshmen found the remains of the Naval V-5 and V-12 programs still in operation on the campus, and the college enrollment still consisting of a small 1,200 students, with the number of women in the majority.

March, with the influx of the veterans, brought a change in these situations. The Navy disappeared, the enrollment increased considerably, and the women no longer held the weight of numbers. It was a short year from November to June, but the '49 freshmen organized successfully under the leadership of Richard McGinn, Judith Martin, Elizabeth Birdsall, and Jack Jackson.

With the arrival of Fall, 1946, and a more normal year at Bucknell, the new sophomores reorganized under Jack Jackson, Richard Watson, Dorothy Yawner, and Judith Martin. These officers led the class in its successful coming-out party, the Sophomore Cotillion. The December prom featured Hal McIntyre and his band, and Alma Fagot was chosen Sophomore Queen.

Alma reigned again in 1947, when the class presented the Junior Ball in February, with Claude Thornhill's orchestra. Class members, now led by Bernie Bujak, Clint Marantz, Marian Merrill, and Betty Lou Snyder, were making their presences felt in all phases of campus activity. As their junior year came to a close, the "Forty-niners" took over the student responsibilities of a post-war Bucknell. Their Alma Mater had changed considerably since November, 1945, and they had watched and aided in the transition.

L'AGENDA, 1949 — dedicated to the friendships we all have known, created to keep the memory of those friendships alive in the years that will follow.

We, the staff, have watched L'AGENDA grow from nothing more than an idea and a paper dummy to the final year book you hold in your hands. We have gathered in weekly staff meetings to receive assignments and exchange ideas; we have worked late into the night, planning, writing, calculating. And now L'AGENDA is complete.

True voice of the student body, the BUCKNELLIAN brings campus news, opinions, and problems to both undergraduates and alumni through its eight printed pages. Published weekly by an all-student staff, the BUCKNELLIAN has consistently won awards in competition with other college newspapers.

The work of getting the paper out never ends for staff members. Each week, assignments are covered, copy is written and revised, the pages are made up, headlines written, and finally, another issue of the BUCKNELLIAN rolls off the presses to be placed in the hands of the campus public.

The Squirrel, our most recent venture into the field of college humor, developed during its third year of existence as staff members worked to produce a variety magazine that was more than a collegiate joke book.

New features were added, standard favorites were retained, and issue after issue came from the printer to be sold to an appreciative public. Michael Nightingale was editor previous to his graduation in January and was followed by George Wilson, while James Roser acted as business manager.

The frame house on South Seventh Street, home of Radio Workshop, vibrated with activity this year, as Station WVBU served the campus with a varied diet of news, drama, music, and original talent.

New variety programs added spice to routine work, and avid listeners won cigarettes to the tune of "Stop the Music." Meanwhile, Workshop members learned the ins-and-outs of broadcasting in a self-made laboratory—at 550 on your dial.

CAP AND DAGGER

Startling innovations and progress marked Cap and Dagger's every action this year. Playgoers were surprised and pleased with the November production of the experimental comedy, "Skin of Our Teeth". Coupled with this was the announcement that C. and D. had become affiliated with ANTA, the American National Theatre and Academy.

"Sabina" awaits her cue in the wings during "Skin of Our Teeth" performance.

March found C. and D. members staging and directing "The Pirates of Penzance" in cooperation with the University Players. "Winterset" was given during the May Day Weekend.

The Cap and Dagger year reflected achievement, progress and promise. Dreams of a Little Theatre come a bit closer to reality.

By providing the channels through which students may apply religion to everyday living, the Christian Association fills a basic need in our campus life.

A member of the World Student Christian Federation and the Student Christian Movement, the Christian Association embraces all faiths and all races in a program of study, worship, and action.

Highlighting the Christian Association year were the weekend trips to Cowan, informal chats in Freshman Firesides, and expanded 9:30 Class and Student Church Forum, and a Religion-in-Life Week program that brought important and worthwhile speakers to campus. The Christian Association continued to uphold the fine ideals that are the foundation of our religious faith.

DEBATING

Bucknell's Debating Club had a full schedule this year as it met with other collegiate members of Pennsylvania's Association of Debate Clubs. Debating on the question, "Resolved: that the United States should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunity by means of annual grants," club members worked together with a high degree of forensic excellence.

During the winter this group followed the plan of the preceding year by sponsoring a debating tournament among the sororities and fraternities with the subject, "Resolved: that the government should take over control of industries." Working through these channels, the Debating Club continues to give Bucknell students an opportunity to develop ideas and to improve their speaking abilities.

UNIVERSITY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Students and faculty members, led by Mr. Russell Miller, combined their talents in the University Symphony Orchestra, an active and revitalized group this year.

Besides giving concerts in Bloomsburg and other nearby towns, the Symphony Orchestra accompanied the Mixed Chorus in the annual Christmas presentation of Handel's "Messiah," and the Spring rendition of Brahms' "Requiem," and also provided music for "The Pirates of Penzance." A string orchestra, newly created this year, became an integral part of the Symphony Orchestra.

The Symphony Orchestra truly represents Bucknell—for students and faculty members alike participate.

UNIVERSITY MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Seventy-five male voices, blended in perfect harmony, brought enjoyment to Bucknell audiences as well as to an ever growing outside public as the Men's Glee Club entertained at concerts during the past year.

From January 31 to February 4, the Club went on its annual tour, this time completing twelve concert engagements that took them from Philadelphia to Baltimore and ended in Washington, D. C. High spots of the tour were radio broadcasts over Station WFIL in Philadelphia and Station WMCP-FM in Baltimore. Audience appreciation and the excitement and fun of the tour rewarded the men for their long hours of practice and the tiring bus trip.

After the completion of the tour, the Club made additional appearances in Bloomsburg, Mt. Carmel, Williamsport and other nearby communities. A concert was also presented at the Northeastern Penitentiary.

Directed by Dr. Harold E. Cook, the Men's Glee Club was student-led by William Connelly as manager, Albert Borelli as accompanist, and Clifford Reims, as publicity director.

Director Williams consults with officers on program details.

Long hours of careful study resulted in inspiring moments on the concert stage for members of the Women's Glee Club and its director, Professor Roderick O. Williams.

During the year, the singers completed a number of engagements in this vicinity, including the annual spring concert given as a part of the May Day Weekend celebration, and entertained Philadelphia and New York audiences in a four-day concert tour through those areas.

Students and townspeople alike thrill to the Christmas presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in crowded Davis Gym.

MIXED CHORUS

Two appearances were made last year by the University's Mixed Chorus, composed of Bucknellians and interested townspeople. Weeks of Sunday afternoon rehearsals were climaxed in the annual Christmas rendition of Handel's "Messiah," in which soloists, the Chorus, and the University Symphony Orchestra took part. The program was under the direction of Dr. Harold E. Cook.

The Mixed Chorus made its second appearance of the year with its presentation in April of Brahms's "Requiem." The spring performance was directed by Professor Roderick O. Williams

MR. ROBERT BECKMAN
Band Director

Instruments flashed in the sun and the Bucknell colors flew high whenever the University band took over the gridiron last fall. Led by director Robert Beckman, the band enlivened intermission time with smart formations and spirit-warming music. Sparking the activities as majorette, Anne Cassell entertained spectators with her expert baton and fancy footwork.

With the close of the football season, band members kept their instruments tuned in preparation for public appearances that terminated in the annual Spring formal concert held at the high school.

Bucknell Life

PHI BETA KAPPA

To receive the gold key of Phi Beta Kappa, National Honorary Scholarship Society, is to join the ranks of a select and honored group. For over a century and a half, its attainment has signified an outstanding excellence in scholarship, an active interest in the world around, and a mature personality. This high honor may be attained only by those seeking a degree in the liberal arts or sciences. At the end of the first semester of the current year, students who belonged to the Bucknell chapter of Phi Beta Kappa included: Nancy Patterson, Lois Eberhart, Franklin McFeely, William Bebb, Warren Lee, John Sprout and Virginia Lewis.

TAU BETA PI

Tau Beta Pi, National Engineering Fraternity, acts as an incentive for all engineers, since membership in the fraternity is the highest recognition an engineering student may receive.

Installed at Bucknell in 1947, Tau Beta Pi is rightly known as the "Phi Beta Kappa of engineering" because of the high scholastic standard that is required for membership. Senior members are selected from the upper fifth of their class, while juniors must be of the upper eighth.

It will be our link in the future.

the Organizations

Interfraternity Council, composed of two members from each of Bucknell's thirteen fraternities, endeavors to correlate effectively interfraternity relationships on campus. This year has seen a widening of its scope with the inauguration of exchange dinners among the houses. It directed the rushing program and generally participated in National Interfraternity Council affairs.

Each new year brings another rushing season—a time when sorority women focus their attention on the Panhellenic Council. Composed of two representatives from each sorority on Campus, this group is a chapter of the National Panhellenic Congress and acts as an intersorority governing body.

Although the Panhellenic Council is extremely active before and during the formal rush period, its work does not end there. Throughout the year, the Pan-Hell members work to maintain fraternity life on a high plane and to promote cooperation and friendship between sorority and non-sorority groups.

BUCKNELL QUEENS

JAMES STEWART

Beverly Hills, California

January 12, 1949

Dear Mr. Speck:

I had no idea what a difficult task I was undertaking when I agreed to select the L'Arenda queens this year.

I have spent a very long time trying to make my choice of five from the 12 pictures and descriptive interviews you sent me and it has been anything but easy to do so, for the girls are all charming, versatile, and talented.

Trying to keep Personality, Achievement, and Appearance in mind as you requested, I have finally narrowed the selections down to the required five. I only wish I could have selected ten instead and am sure you, too, must have felt the same in sending me the pictures.

With very best wishes to L'Arenda and the students of Bucknell University, and my congratulations to the L'Arenda queens,

Sincerely, James Stewart

OUR HERITAGE IN SPORTS

THE MASTER OF THEM ALL

Aug. 12, 1880-Christopher Mathewson-Oct. 7, 1925

Fifty years ago this spring, an eighteen year old made his debut on the mound for the Bucknell baseball team. He was a three letter man in college and captured the heart of the athletic world after departing from this campus. He was Christy Mathewson.

Whether it was books, bridge, or baseball, Matty did it well. He could not be classified as an "also ran" in anything he did—Matty was a perfectionist.

We all agree that Matty, the Factoryville farm boy who thrilled the New York crowds as no other ball player, was a pitcher without an equal—a giant among the Giants. Also, we may have heard what W. O. McGeehan, N. Y. Herald Tribune sports editor, said about Christy Mathewson: "Matty was proud of being a ball player. I think it was the advent of Mathewson into the game that, more than any other single influence, raised the standards of the game. Until that time baseball was more or less one of the fugitive sports. A professional ball player was looked upon as a member of a rowdy and almost outcast fraternity."

But there is still another side to Matty, his Bucknell side. Matty was not just another athlete with more brawn than the average college athlete. He was someone who was a pleasure to have for your companion, a true gentleman. Besides displaying his unexcelled finesse on Bucknell's football field, basketball court, and baseball diamond, Christy was an honor student, Glee Club member, and class president.

Matty was also a member of the Euepia literary society, one of the two big literary organizations then existing. He was initiated into Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity, and, in his sophomore year, Matty was elected to Theta Delta Tau, the outstanding men's honorary at that time.

Before concluding his studies at Bucknell, Matty had become a real ball player, and representatives from almost every professional team in the nation came to Lewisburg to see the "Big Six." Matty signed with the New York Giants in his junior year.

Soon after leaving college, Matty married the former Miss Jane Stoughton of Lewisburg, also a Christy — ready for the delivery.

Bucknell student. Mrs. Mathewson is now residing at Saranac Lake, New York, but she frequently visits Lewisburg. According to Mrs. Mathewson, "Christy's ball game ended in the stadium. He never complained about his bad luck or bragged about his skill. He was a wonderful family man and seemed to be happiest when he was home."

Christy Mathewson, the pitcher of all time, the athlete who refused to play ball on Sunday, the beloved Bucknellian in the class of 1902, paid us a great tribute by making our grounds his chosen resting place. This gentleman, athlete, and scholar is Bucknell's most famous and glorious son—he is our heritage. Let us hope that our sportsmanship will always be worthy of our heritage.

FAMOUS PROFESSIONAL ATHLETES FROM BUCKNELL

Year represents the class in which they were enrolled

- 1877—HAROLD McCLURE, Boston catcher who was the first Bucknellian to play in the major league.
- 1894—DR. HARVEY SMITH, played third base for the Washington Nationals.
- 1902—CHRISTY MATHEWSON, New York Giants pitcher. Rated as one of the greatest pitchers of all time.
- 1902—YENTZER WEIDENSAUL, played for the Detroit Tigers.
- 1904—MOOSE McCORMICK, New York Giants outfielder. Noted for his dependable pinch hitting.
- 1905—GEORGE COCKILL, played first base for the Detroit Tigers.
- 1907—BERT DANIELS, outfielder for the New York Yankees.
- 1910—GEORGE NORTHROP, pitcher for the Columbus American Association.
- 1910—JIMMY CLARK, outfielder for the New York Yankees.
- 1912—ED MANNING, played for the New York Yankees.
- 1913—CHARLES PIEZ, played for the New York Giants.
- 1916—DEAN STURGES, catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics.
- 1930—THOMAS JONES, guard for the New York Giants football team.
- 1932—CLARK HINKLE, all-league fullback for the Green Bay Packers.
- 1939—STEWART SMITH, back for the Pittsburgh Steelers.
- 1939—LOU TOMASETTI, fullback for Buffalo.
- 1939—ENIO CONTI, back for the Philadelphia Eagles.
- 1941—WALTER BLAIR, catcher for the New York Yankees.
- 1944—WALTER SZOTT, lineman for the Chicago Cardinals.

Several Bucknell Academy men distinguished themselves in professional baseball: James Sebring, Pittsburgh outfielder; Micky Doolan, Philadelphia Nationals; Bucky Veil, Pittsburgh pitcher.

CHRISTY MATHEWSON—The beloved "Big Six."

CLARK HINKLE—All-American Back

In 1931, Bucknell was the only team in the East that concluded the season with an undefeated record. The fullback for the Bisons was the famed Clark Hinkle.

He led the East in scoring in 1929 and was named to several all-American teams in 1931. In the 1932 East-West Shrine game, Hinkle was the leading ground gainer in the East's 6-0 triumph. Harry Stuhldreher, who then coached Villanova, spoke of Hinkle as the greatest fullback in the entire country.

He continued his success with the Packers, being named all-league fullback half a dozen times during the '30's. In a magazine article, Curly Lambeau, Packer coach, described Hinkle as an ideal back, equally well equipped for offense and defense.

B CLUB HITS PRE-WAR STRIDE

This year the B Club, composed of varsity letter winners, made considerable progress toward regaining its pre-war importance among campus organizations. The club was able to buy varsity sweaters for all letter winners.

The purpose of the club is to co-ordinate varsity sports and foster good relations between the athletes and the students. The club also submits recommendations to the University Athletic Council for the betterment of the Bucknell Sports Program.

Officers for the current year were Robert Ervin, president; Robert Walgran, vice president; Charles Stults, treasurer; Calvin Seaman, secretary; Joseph Diblin, adviser.

CHEERLEADERS ADD ZEST TO GAMES

The cheerleaders of the 1948-1949 sporting season never lost a game. No matter what the odds were or what the weather was like, the Bison Boosters were on the scene in winning form.

The spirited squad was on hand for the freshman as well as the varsity football games. They held several pep rallies, and led the stands in cheers for this year's basketball team. The squad was reinforced by the addition of new cheerleaders including Wanda Sullivan, Lynn Hansen, Marilyn Brown, Paul Bordinger, Edward McComsey, and Louis Williams.

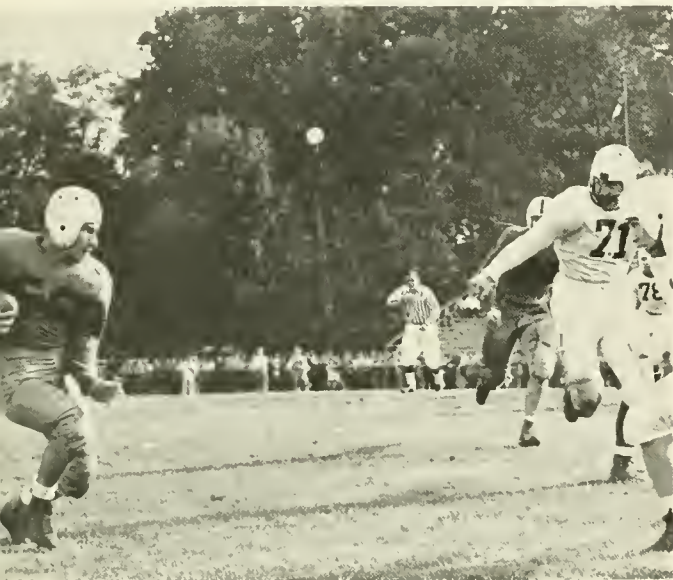

The spirit injected into the spectators by the untiring efforts of Captains Chris Christian and Paul Watkins and their squad fostered school loyalty among the students and added winning spirit to the efforts of the players.

The beginning was promising; the ending was disappointing. In a nutshell, this summarizes the Bisons' 1948 football campaign, the leanest in matters of a won-and-lost record in the history of the University.

Even the opening victory over Alfred was disappointing. It was all too clear that the Herd lacked reserve strength, and as the season progressed, injuries and bad breaks destroyed any hopes of a good season.

LEAN SEASON

Outlook Optimistic

The squad, in addition to little reserve power, lacked speed and savvy. But in spite of this, they often played inspired football. Their fight in the Penn State, Delaware, and Washington and Jefferson contests proved this.

The Alfred inaugural was an encore of the 1947 battle. Coach Harry Lawrence's men played alert ball and capitalized on every break to win, 29-6. A blocked punt, two intercepted passes and a Saxon fumble were converted into points.

LINE HOLDS AT STATE

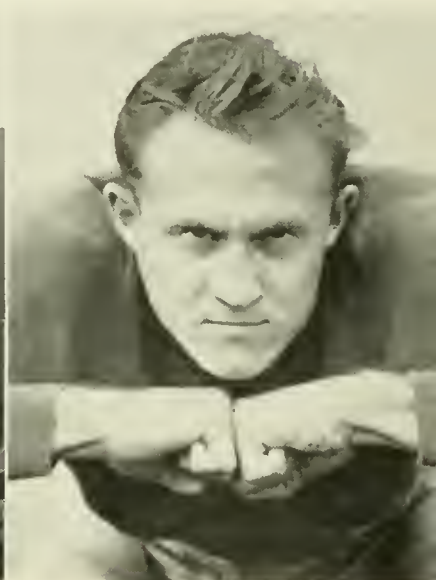

The following week, the first of eight straight losses was inflicted by Penn State's mighty machine. Before the Herd tired late in the third quarter, it was a close affair. Although the Orange and Blue could not strike paydirt, its line had held. Pass defense, however, was lacking as the Lions set up two scores via the air-lanes with 17 minutes remaining. At this point the game took a turn-about from the initial contest as Bob Higgins' charges converted an intercepted pass, a fumble, and a blocked kick into three touchdowns . . . all within five minutes . . . to post a 35-0 triumph.

BULLETS FIELD AERIAL ARTISTS

Gettysburg showed us the best passing combination of the season. Quarterback Ross Sach's passing to End Bob McClausland was superb for the Bullets. The score, 13-0, does not indicate the closeness of the battle. Were it not for two severe penalties in the first half which thwarted BU scores, the game might have had a happier ending.

FLUKE PLAY GIVES "HENS" VICTORY

Many go on record as saying the Delaware tilt was the best all season. A hard, bruising contest with flashes of spectacular defensive work, the game was won on one play. Kicking off in the second half, the Blue Hens watched a "neglected" pigskin roll into the end zone, where it was recovered by right end Jim Thomas. That was the game: Delaware 7, Bucknell 0. Three times the Herd pushed inside the 10-yard line; three times it was denied.

HOOVER SCORES IN HOMECOMING TILT

The Homecoming contest saw defeat No. 4, but something of a moral victory was attained. The Herd tallied its first score since the curtain-raiser on a one-yard buck by Jim Hoover. The touchdown and conversion enabled the Lawrence-men to tie Lafayette, 7-7, but in the second half, the Maroon stuck to the ground to ram across two touchdowns. Final score: 19-7, Lafayette.

OWLS GARNER VICTORY

In the next game, something had to break. Temple had not captured a game all year; the Orange and Blue had not tasted victory since the Alfred game. Temple's winless streak was as the listless and injury-riddled Herd lost, 20-0. The "Old Shoe" trophy was placed in Owl custody another year.

BISONS NIPPED BY W. AND J.

The seventh game against Washington and Jefferson was more favorable to the Bison cause in spite of an 18-13 loss. It marked the heaviest point production since Alfred. Going into the final quarter the score was 13-6, but a buck by Deacon Dan Towler, one of the nation's top scorers, and an 80-yard run by sub Jack Sourbeer squelched all hopes of victory.

BUFFALO'S POWER SHINES

Buffalo lived up to its reputation by dunking Bucknell in the mud and mire, 47-13. The losers opened and completed the scoring, showing their power when plays ran smoothly.

BISONS' PASSING ATTACKS FAILS

The finale with Muhlenberg ran as expected. The Mules, featuring Marty Binder and Russ Strait, a Davis-Blanchard combination, raced all over the field as they piled up a 44-14 victory.

Highlights of the Season

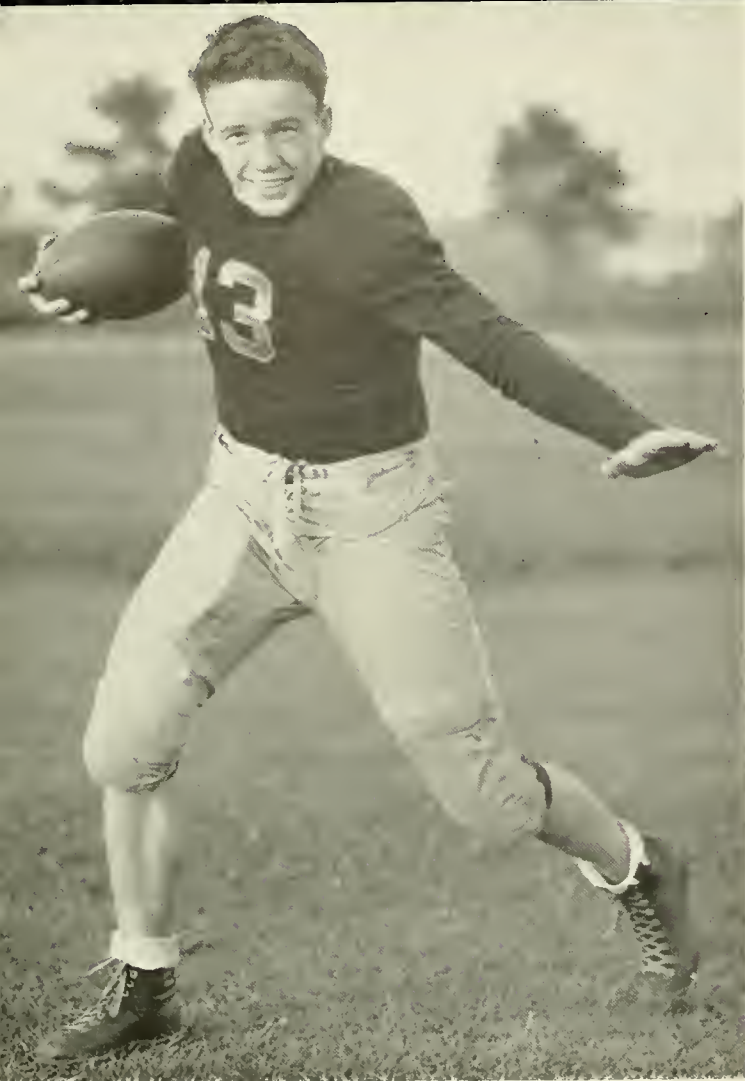

It took the Alfred game to give lineman Ducky Davidson the first touchdown in his life when he intercepted a forward pass and sped 55 yards to score.

At Delaware, shifty Smokey Ostendarp made a 60-yard run which brought the Bisons on the 10. Scoring threats were checked by the Delaware forward wall on the 6-yard line, the 2-foot line, and later the Lawrencemen were held on the $\frac{1}{2}$ -yard line.

The Bisons took to the air in the last quarter of the Temple game and Jim Hoover completed 5 out of 8 passes for a total of 75 yards.

The W. and J. game was the heartbreaker of the season. Trailing 18-13 with 7 minutes to go, Cal Seaman took the kickoff on our 5 and drove to their 35-yard stripe. Three plays later Seaman took the ball to the 12 for a first down but the Bisons became mired in the mud.

The Bucknell offensive began to click in the Buffalo game when the Bisons dug through rain and snow for a score in 11 plays. Buffalo came back strong, however, and only allowed the Bisons one more score.

The Mules were kicked into defensive tactics after a pass from DiGuisseppi to Ostendarp resulted in a 67-yard gain for a score.

FRESHMEN UNDEFEATED AND UNTIED

Six wins, no losses! That is the record hung up by the Freshman Football team of 1948. For the first time in the history of Bucknell University, a frosh team went through the season unbeaten. This is an even more amazing feat when it is remembered that it was the first year for Coach Bill Lane at the helm. He was ably assisted by Bob Williams, George Meyers, and Bill McKay, all former Bison varsity members.

This unbeaten season was accomplished because of a very well balanced team. The Frosh possessed a very deadly air arm as well as a devastating ground attack. A look at the scoring substantiates this statement. Of the 29 touchdowns scored, 10 were scored on passes, with the other 19 being scored on the ground. Leading the scoring tosses were Tommy Dean and Flavio Nardone. These two men accounted for 7 of the 10 scoring passes. With such glue-fingered ends as Jim Seifert, Joe Gallagher, and Marty McKibbin the passers had quite an easy time of it. Along the ground, with the deadly and vicious blocking of Bob Davenport and Herb Stiefel clearing the path, the ball carriers, led by Bob Albert, had only to pick their way among the blocked opponents.

The Baby Bisons avenged the only defeat of last year's team by drubbing the Penn State Jayvees, in the high spot of the campaign, by the score of 20-0. The men of Coach Lane scored the staggering total of 194 points while holding their opponents to a scant 37.

The entire team is eagerly awaiting the coming of next football season, when they will be striving for varsity positions.

SOCGERMEN WIN M. A. CHAMPIONSHIP

Highlights of a Championship Season

TEMPLE—The soccermen met a determined Temple eleven and were not able to break the Owls' winning streak.

PENN STATE—With one minute to go till halftime, Harry Birchard drove through the State defense and scored a tying goal. But the Lions came back to win, 2-1.

WASHINGTON—Termed the "off game" by Coach Diblin, the soccermen were upset by an inspired Washington squad. The referee calling back Machamer's tying goal added to the disappointment.

JOHNS HOPKINS—The Diblinmen clicked this game with a brilliant display of passing and GETTYSBURG—The Bison dribblers pushed over the winning goal by a stunning display of passing all the way from midfield, followed up by a perfect sideshot by Rickard.

WESTERN MARYLAND—Machamer

scored the most memorable goal of the season by hitting a mid-air pass into the net with his knee.

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL—The score was knotted at 3-3 in the final moments of the game when Art Raynor headed the ball into the Diplomats' goal.

DELAWARE—Again with team-play the Bisons came through and routed the Blue Hens, 7-2.

Raynor Straining for a Head Shot and an All-Important Tally in Front of the Swarthmore Net.

SWARTHMORE—The championship game of the year. A victory would mean the Middle Atlantic Championship. Sam Rickard in his hey-day game of the year, scored both goals, the last one a solo down the field with a Swarthmore booter on each side of him.

Afterthought—Those were some of the outstanding moments during the soccer season of 1948 which was the best in Bucknell history. But it was not a few brilliant plays which made this season a victorious one; that never accounts for the whole story. It was the team that won the Middle Atlantic Conference, and that means the reserves as well as the first eleven. Congratulations are in order for the coach and his assistants and for this year's team who went out every game with the determination to win.

WRESTLERS HAVE STELLAR SEASON

With victories in their first two matches, the Bison grapplers set out on the road to a very successful season. In this, the fourth year of competition in the sport, the team is one win short of the most wins any team has garnered in a complete season.

The squad, when first reporting to Coach Herb Maack, was composed of six of this year's intra-mural participants, and two of last year's winners. However, despite this inexperience, the team eagerly awaited the opening match with Delaware. When the match was ended, the Bison grapplers were found to be the winners by a 21-11 score.

Tom Fusia won the 121-pound title in the Middle Atlantic Tournament. Wendell Stainsby was undefeated in dual-match competition.

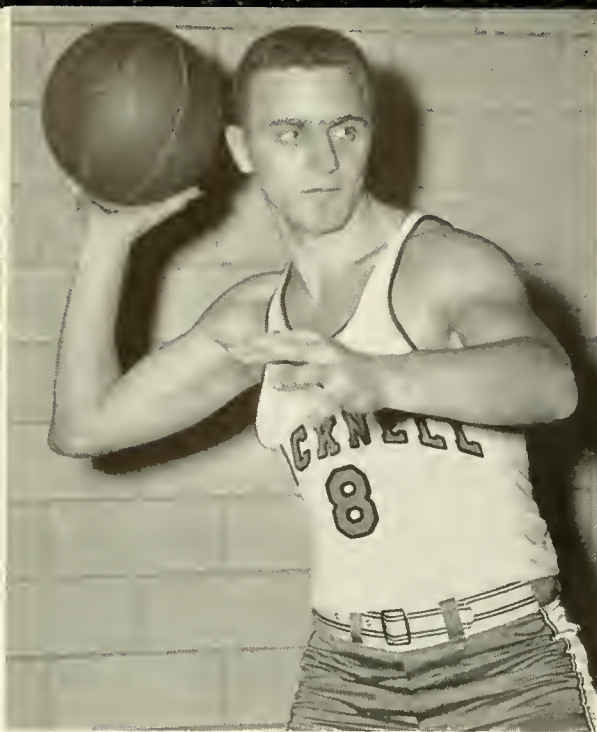

The next match was against a more experienced Lafayette squad, but again Bison determination won out, and the Leopards were defeated 21-13.

Much of the credit for these fine showings must go to the lightweight wrestlers. These men, Tom Fusia, Carl Stuntzner, Wendell Stainsby and George Stanton, all won their matches handily, and went into the Franklin & Marshall tussle sporting unblemished records.

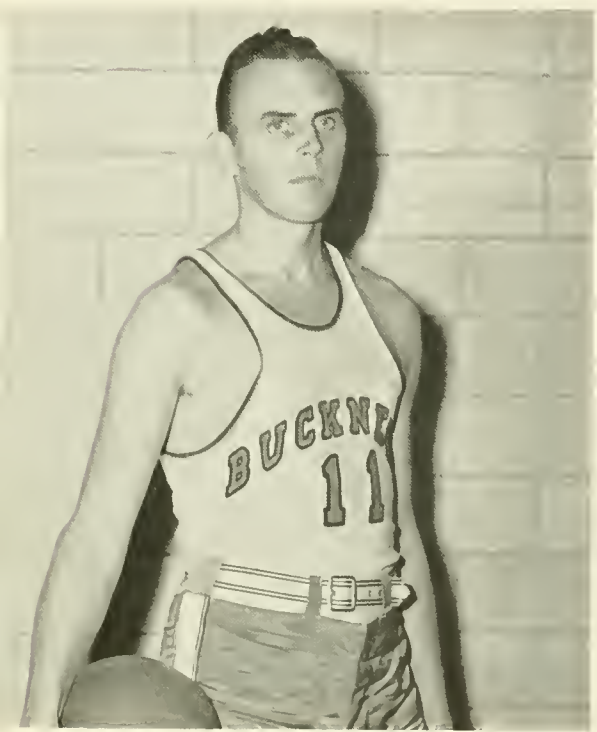

Coach Maack is working diligently with a group of Freshmen who he hopes will augment his team next year, and provide Bucknell with another outstanding wrestling squad.

STALLS QUINTET

This season the varsity cagers of Bucknell played one of the toughest schedules ever to face a Bison quintet. Playing host to such highly touted teams as Rhode Island State, Navy, and Muhlenburg, Coach Jack Guy had his hard fighting charges over a rough and tortuous road.

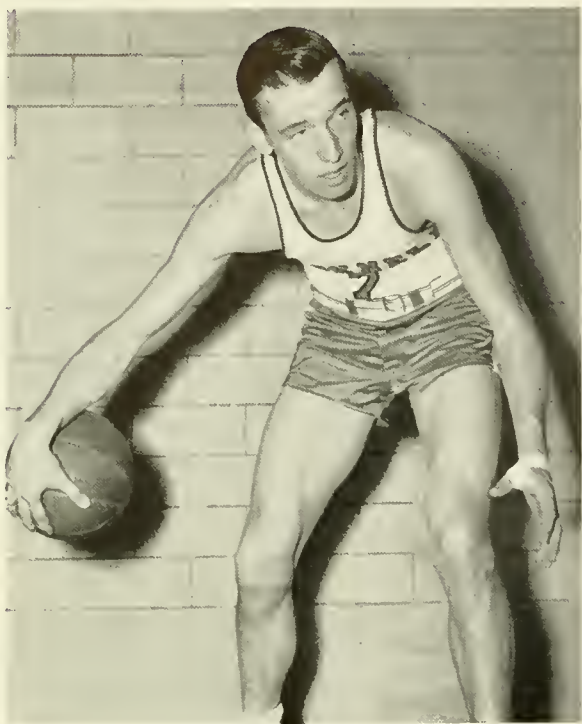

This year's aggregation was built around the three veterans of the 1948 team, John Mosny, John Lose, and Jim Comerford. Coming forth to round out the squad were George Lavin, Harry Cholewinski, Art Raynor, Bud Clark, and Bill Woodcock. That all important factor, reserve power, was furnished by Jim Hess, George Giles, Craig Hall, and Bill Ragg.

Coach Guy tutored his squad well this season and seemed to point for every opponent, making the Bisons a continual threat. Their won lost record, to date, is not impressive statistically speaking, but the "close wins" vastly overbalance the few onesided ball games. Lack of sufficient height and seasoned reserve force were the squad's downfall in many games. Also, February graduation cancelled the valuable center services of Jim Comerford and an ankle injury prevented Harry Cholewinski from finishing the season.

This year was Jack Guy's second season as the reinsman of the Herd. He has developed a fast brand of basketball with special emphasis on deceptive and accurate passing. The effectiveness of his attack was shown in occasional spectacular spurts during this year's contests.

It goes without saying that next year will find the cagers better equipped by the addition of several promising freshmen. This fact plus the remembrance that the fighting spirit of the team and their coach kept Davis Gym filled to capacity this year, tabs Bucknell as a formidable quintet on Eastern boards next year.

Boasting of nine wins and three losses with only three games to go, the freshman cagers already have assured themselves of an enviable record. Opening with a victory over Susquehanna, the freshmen did not lose a game until that memorable Gettysburg contest. With only a few seconds to go, Gallagher hooked in a field goal which sent the game into overtime. It looked like a Bison victory by one point when a Gettysburg forward sunk a long field goal, giving the Bullets a 45-44 win.

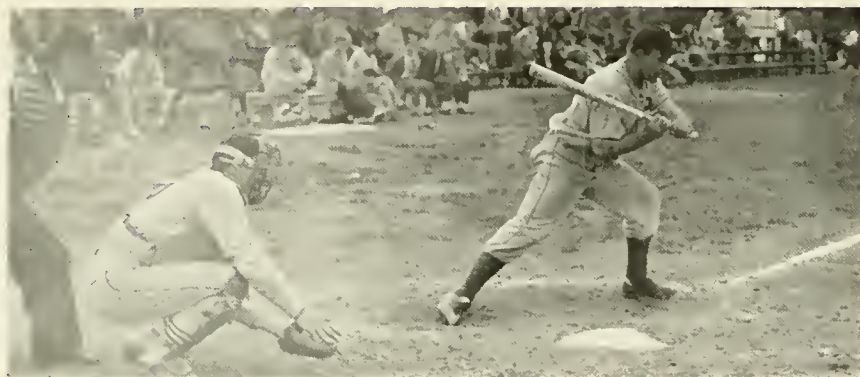

Coach Bill Lane depended heavily on the driving power of Gallagher, Straussner, McKibbin, DeLoca, and Kough for his scoring punch. For the first twelve games Gallagher totaled 223 points while Straussner racked-up 113 points for eleven games.

The team operated smoothly and the reserve power was a major factor in the squad's commendable record. Sinking the Navy plebs 69-62 was one of the peak performances by the quintet. Kings College varsity, which defeated Bloomsburg and Mansfield State Teachers Colleges in previous contests, felt the might of the Bison yearlings by barely managing to eke out a 69-66 victory.

The record established by the freshmen cagers this year is not one we put away and look at wishfully. Next year will find the same talent on the boards of Davis gym under the tutelage of Jack Guy, and previous performance points toward a basketball season worth waiting for.

Spring training for the 1948 Bucknell baseball team began in March with ten returning lettermen, augmented by a host of newcomers, on hand in an effort to better 1947's dismal record of four wins and eight setbacks. Included among the list of former "B" winners were pitchers Art Raynor, Hal Swanson, and Cal Seaman, catchers Jack Huckin and Carl Niensteadt, infielders Sherm Doebler, Bob Camac, Jim Devine, and Don Hochbrunn, and outfielder Ed Stec.

Aided by the hurling of Raynor and the clouting of Doebler and Niensteadt, the Bisons successfully ushered in the new season with a 4-3 victory over Susquehanna. Win number two came at the expense of Rider College with the 2-0 shutout decision going to Hal Swanson.

WIN SEVEN

Juniata and Villanova handed the Herd their initial defeats of the season by scores of 6-4 and 3-1, the latter despite the two-hit twirling of Raynor. Rebounding, the Lanemen nipped Albright, 2-1, in a game in which Swanson had 17 strike-outs, but were then edged by Dickinson by the same score. Turning again to a warm style of play, the Bisons defeated Muhlenberg, 6-3, for their fourth win of the campaign. The squad lost their next game to Penn State, 8-0.

Following a six-day lay-off due to rain which forced cancellation of the Lafayette and Gettysburg games, Bucknell returned to the diamond warfare with an impressive 12-5 rout of Susquehanna. Heavy hitting continued to be the Herd's offensive weapon as Franklin and Marshall were crushed, 11-5, with the Bisons exploding for 7 runs in the sixth inning.

Penn State, showing little respect for Bucknell's newly-found power and, aided by six free tickets in the first inning that saw four Lion runs produced, topped the Lanemen, 6-1. Coming back, the Herd, sparked by Doeblner's homer, defeated the Red Raiders of Colgate, 6-5.

The final game of the season saw the Bisons submit to the Temple University nine, 4-2, the contest being one of the dark spots in a generally bright record that showed 7 victories as against 6 losses. Swanson's five mound wins paced the hurling staff while the leading hitters for the Lane-coached athletes were Concklin, Walgran, and Stec, with averages of .348, .292, and .283, respectively.

TRACKSTERS GAIN NEW LAURELS

Coach Bus Blum and the Orange and Blue streaks of the cinder track outdid their '47 record by boasting the first undefeated team at Bucknell since 1933. The team exhibited a fine pre-season form by attaining first place in the section of the College Class Mile Relay at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia, with a time of 3:34.4. They officially began their season by defeating the Muhlenberg Mules with a five-point margin, gaining eight first placements. Double victories were won by John McMahon and Jim Stumbaugh, Stumbaugh sharing the first place in the pole vault session with Jim Pangburn. The four remaining firsts were held by Gene Quenzler, Dick Gerlach, Don Davidson, and Jack Purnell.

The trackmen confidently defied all contenders in a triangular meet with Gettysburg and Juniata by again taking eight first placements. Their confidence was well rewarded with an overwhelming number of points, 70½, Gettysburg following with 45 and Juniata trailing with 38½. John McMahon and Fred Snyder scored double victories.

In their final meet with Dickinson at Carlisle, victory was again theirs, with a 33-point margin. "Ducky" Davidson broke Dickinson's shot-put record by adding 3¾" to the former mark. Three double victories were won in this meet, Don Davidson for discus and shot-put, Fred Snyder for high and low hurdles, and Jack Purnell for the 440 dash and the 880 run. McMahon again placed first in the 100 yard dash, while "Cappy" Walsh placed first in the broad jump.

Missing the services of veteran golfer Harold Cholewinski who was disabled for the past season by a basketball injury, the Bucknell linksmen were not able to register a single win.

A bright note during the season occurred when the golfers met Penn State's highly rated team. Captain Joseph Spicer's inspired game rattled the opposition, but the Nittany Lions were too well rounded to enable our linksmen to win.

The outlook for the coming season was optimistic since there were five returning lettermen and several able newcomers who were unable to compete last year because of the Middle Atlantic freshmen restriction ruling.

Another factor in favor of the linksmen was the condition of the course. The weather in March permitted Coach Harold Evans to issue a call for early practice.

At this writing the performance of the 1949 golf team seems to insure a successful season in the matter of wins and losses. It would not surprise us to see the linksmen tee off to an outstanding record—one par to any established so far.

CAPTAIN JACK NOTHEL

The Bison netmen expanded their '48 season to nine matches by challenging Colgate, Muhlenberg, and Lehigh. However, two of the matches were rained out, and of the remaining 7, the first three starts proved unsuccessful. Bucknell then came back with terrific power to win a shut-out against Susquehanna, followed by an 8 to 1 victory over the Gettysburg Bullets. The two final games of the year were also unsuccessful, the team rounding out the season with a crushing 9-0 defeat at the hands of the Lehighmen from Bethlehem.

Jack Nothel was elected captain of the team, playing number one position in the singles and accompanied by Don Hamre in the doubles. Besides the four lettermen, Jack Nothel, Don Hamre, Jack Koch, and Craig Linton—Drew Mathieson, Joe Gillespie, Bill Day, Len Aneschek, and Sam Rickard rounded out the remainder of the squad.

The all popular intramural sports program was initiated this year with the golf and tennis tournaments which were won by Lambda Chi and Kappa Sigma respectively. Cross country went as expected with the favorites, Phi Kappa Psi, coping first place with the help of distance champion Don Lohrmann. Lambda Chi and SAE took second and third place honors in the grinding race.

One of the memorable events of the season was the long and highly spirited soccer play-offs between Lambda Chi and SAE. After four action packed contests, the Lambda Chis came out victorious by a goal scored in the last thirty seconds of play.

TKE made a fine showing in the wrestling matches and walked off with the crown. Two of her intramural winners, George Stanton and Wendell Stainsby, later became mainstays on the varsity wrestling team. SAE and Lambda Chi followed TKE in the wrestling matches by having the next highest number of points.

The Demies and the SAE's met in the bowling finals with the Demies the favorite. In keeping with last year when the Demies upset the favored SAE's and the year before when the reverse happened, SAE came from the underdog status to win the crown.

Basketball was extremely nip and tuck this year with three teams, SX, PLT, PKP, playing off for the league finals. The championship game found the Sigma Chi's and Lambda Chi's battling it out on the main floor of Davis gym. Three quick goals by Hammer, of LCA, brought the score to 31-30 in favor of SX. A long pass to a Lambda Chi forward in the closing seconds of the game was intercepted by Schaumburg of Sigma Chi which gave the Sigs the crown after a thrilling ball game.

Boxing honors went to Phi Gam with Lambda Chi and Phi Lambda Theta trailing only a few points behind. The individual class champions were as follows: 125 pound, PKP, Cross Country Champions.

Becher and Woolcock in the 165 lb. final.

Miller, PGD; 130-pound, Murdough, LCA; 136-pound, Blau, PLT; 145-pound, Woodward, PLT; 155-pound, Purnell, LCA; 165-pound, Stanton, DS; 175-pound, Heininger, PKP; Heavyweight, Albert, PGD.

Although the season is not complete at this writing, we feel that it is safe to say that the quality of the sports has improved this year. Both the boxing and wrestling tournaments showed this clearly when many of the contenders proved to be varsity material.

Handball was introduced as an experiment this year and no intramural points were awarded. SAE's Jack Nothel and Denton Brown won first laurels and were given individual prizes.

The outcome of the trophy race is difficult to predict since the points are not lopsided for any 'mural organization. The rivalry is paramount and the highly prized cup will not be won without a maximum of fighting spirit and spectacular sporting plays.

WOMEN'S

1949 Program

Swimming or skiing—basketball or baseball—Bucknell coeds found the opportunity to take part in their favorite sports through the program of the physical education department, under the direction of Miss Margaret Bryan, Miss Helen Heminghaus, and Miss Barbara Jean Smith. Throughout the year, women students also had the opportunity to voluntarily participate in intramural, inter-class, and individual sports, including the play days with neighboring colleges.

In addition to the varied sports program offered, new ski equipment was purchased for the use of all students. Another new feature was the WAA

The independent women organized a team which participated in the inter-group sports. In the inter-class sports, the seniors won the volleyball for the third time, while the freshmen again won the hockey.

BUCKNELL'S WANING WAR YEARS

FOR almost a decade our Bucknell Campus has had a military flavor. Service men of every sort have traversed our campus and enriched their minds and character in our academic fields of learning. Bucknell contributed much to a successful war and by way of compensation the war has returned innumerable G. I. students to our campus. The Government in a measure has compensated our fighters for dangerous and sacrificial duties and for usurping the best years of their lives.

Bucknell, obviously, would rather have these same fine fellows under more normal circumstances and time in their life. For the good character and conduct of our future Bucknellians would have a more favorable environment on a college campus than the battle fields of hate and murder. Despite all this, our Bucknell G. I.'s tried and not found wanting, in the furnace fires of war, have had many advantages desirable in the field of education. They are more serious, their playboy days no longer conspicuous, married life with all its responsibilities, an urge to get going in the world's work, all of these have given our campus a sobering and serious side, in contrast to a more normal country club atmosphere.

We have found our G. I.'s a splendid group of men deeply appreciative of the privileges granted to them, a door of opportunity opened to them by the war that in many instances would not have been their good fortune. Bucknell can be proud of her record in her contributions to the war, thankful to the War Department for aid and assistance and contributions to our war efforts and glad of the opportunity to serve our country. For despite enormous war costs and waste and extravagance, we are Americans first of all and tremendously impressed with the religious emphasis of President Truman's incoming administration. His passion for peace on earth, his good will and aid to all minority groups, his fight for Democratic Government in all places, all of which has made The United States the world's leader in Christian Diplomacy and Statesmanship. We can well afford to pay the price and forget our petty partisanship in achieving these worthy ideals. We shall see the travail of our souls and be satisfied.

The College Inn, with the high privilege of associating and giving service in all the war years with men in uniform has been happy to play a small part in both of our two World Wars.
